

Statistics for the SDGs - indicators for national priorities

Goal 5. Gender equality  Priority  Ensurance of conditions for women's return to labour market after a break from employment due to childbirth and childcare  Share of employed women with the youngest child up to 5 years old in the total number of womenwith the youngest child up to 5 years old in the total number of womenwith the youngest child up to 5 years old.  Juit  Percent [%]  Available dimentions  Data come from a sample survey Labour Force Survey (LFS). The survey is conducted on a quarterly basis. The survey is conducted as confluous observation (movable survey week) what allowspresenting the situation on the labour market during a whole quarter. The survey covers personsaged 15 and more who are members of households in dwellings selected on a random basis.  In the context of economic activity — work is the main criterion in dividing the population, i.e. performing, holding or seeking work. According to the international standards, the tre maincategories are distinguished: employed, unemployed are members of households in divellings selected on a random basis.  In the context of economic activity — work is the main criterion in dividing the population, i.e. performing, holding or seeking work. According to the international standards, the tre maincategories are distinguished: employed are the economically active population.  Among the employed are included all persons aged 15 years or more who during the reference week:  1) performed for at least one hour any work generating pay or income, i.e. were employed as paidemployees, worked on their own (or leased) agricultural farm or conducted their own economicactivity outside agriculture, assignated with a survey in a break incompany activity) if the break in employment did not exceed 3 months; if the break was longer than 3 months in case when persons were paid employees the additional criterion is receiving during thatperiod at least 50% of the hitherto earnings.  Among employees are also included persons performing outwork and apprentices with whomenterp	Name of the indicator	5.3.a Employment rate of women with the youngest child up to 5 years old (LFS)
Definition  Share of employed women with the youngest child up to 5 years old in the total number of womenwith the youngest child up to 5 years old.  Jnit  percent [%]  Available dimentions  total  Data come from a sample survey Labour Force Survey (LFS). The survey is conducted on a quarterly basis. The survey is conducted as continuous observation (movable survey week) what allowspresenting the situation on the labour market during a whole quarter. The survey covers personsaged 15 and more who are members of households in dwellings selected on a random basis.  In the context of economic activity — work is the main criterion in dividing the population, i.e.performing, holding or seeking work. According to the international standards, the tre maincategories are distinguished: employed, unemployed and economically inactive persons. Theemployed, unemployed are the economically active population.  Among the employed are included all persons aged 15 years or more who during the reference week:  1) performed for at least one hour any work generating pay or income, i.e. were employed as paidemployees, worked on their own (or leased) agricultural farm, or conducted their own economicactivity outside agriculture, assisted (without pay) in conducting family agricultural farm or familyeconomic activity outside agriculture,  2) had work but did not perform it: (e.g. due to illness, maternity leave or vacation, a break incompany activity) if the break in employment did not exceed 3 months; if the break was longer than 3months in case when persons were paid employees the additional criterion is receiving during thatperiod at least 50% of the hitherto earnings.  Among employees are also included persons performing outwork and apprentices with whomenterprises or natural persons signed a contract for occupational training or learning skills for aparticular job (if they receive a payment).  Due to the survey methodological assumptions the number of the employed obtained from the LFSdoes not comprise some categories of persons,	Sustainable Development Goal
Junit percent [%]  Available dimentions  Data come from a sample survey Labour Force Survey (LFS). The survey is conducted on a quarterly basis. The survey is conducted as continuous observation (movable survey week) what allowspresenting the situation on the labour market during a whole quarter. The survey covers personsaged 15 and more who are members of households in dwellings selected on a random basis.  In the context of economic activity – work is the main criterion in dividing the population, i.e.performing, holding or seeking work. According to the international standards, the tre maincategories are distinguished: employed, unemployed and economically inactive persons. Theemployed, unemployed are the economically active population.  Among the employed are included all persons aged 15 years or more who during the reference week:  1) performed for at least one hour any work generating pay or income, i.e. were employed as paidemployees, worked on their own (or leased) agricultural farm, or conducted their own economicactivity outside agriculture, assisted (without pay) in conducting family agricultural farm or familyeconomic activity outside agriculture,  2) had work but did not perform it: (e.g. due to illness, maternity leave or vacation, a break incompany activity) if the break in employment did not exceed 3 months; if the break was longer than 3 months in case when persons were paid employees the additional criterion is receiving during thateprical at least 50% of the hitherto earnings.  Among employees are also included persons performing outwork and apprentices with whomenterprises or natural persons signed a contract for occupational training or learning skills for aparticular job (if they receive a payment).  Due to the survey methodological assumptions the number of the employed obtained from the LFSdoes not comprise some categories of persons, who are considered as employed in theestablishment survey, i.a.:  a) employees living in lodging houses for workers, b) employees working abroad for their	Priority
Data come from a sample survey Labour Force Survey (LFS). The survey is conducted on a quarterly basis. The survey is conducted as continuous observation (movable survey week) what allowspresenting the situation on the labour market during a whole quarter. The survey covers personsaged 15 and more who are members of households in dwellings selected on a random basis.  In the context of economic activity — work is the main criterion in dividing the population, i.e.performing, holding or seeking work. According to the international standards, the tre maincategories are distinguished: employed, unemployed and economically inactive persons. Theemployed, unemployed are the economically active population.  Among the employed are included all persons aged 15 years or more who during the reference week:  1) performed for at least one hour any work generating pay or income, i.e. were employed as paidemployees, worked on their own (or leased) agricultural farm, or conducted their own economicactivity outside agriculture, assisted (without pay) in conducting family agricultural farm or familyeconomic activity outside agriculture, 2) had work but did not perform it: (e.g. due to illness, maternity leave or vacation, a break incompany activity) if the break in employment did not exceed 3 months; if the break was longer than 3months in case when persons were paid employees the additional criterion is receiving during thatperiod at least 50% of the hitherto earnings.  Among employees are also included persons performing outwork and apprentices with whomenterprises or natural persons signed a contract for occupational training or learning skills for aparticular job (if they receive a payment).  Due to the survey methodological assumptions the number of the employed obtained from the LFSdoes not comprise some categories of persons, who are considered as employee living in lodging houses for workers, b) employees living in lodging houses for workers, b) employees working abroad for their Polish employers.	Definition
Data come from a sample survey Labour Force Survey (LFS). The survey is conducted on a quarterly basis. The survey is conducted as continuous observation (movable survey week) what allowspresenting the situation on the labour market during a whole quarter. The survey covers personsaged 15 and more who are members of households in dwellings selected on a random basis.  In the context of economic activity — work is the main criterion in dividing the population, i.e.performing, holding or seeking work. According to the international standards, the tre maincategories are distinguished: employed, unemployed and economically inactive persons. Theemployed, unemployed are the economically active population.  Among the employed are included all persons aged 15 years or more who during the reference week:  1) performed for at least one hour any work generating pay or income, i.e. were employed as paidemployees, worked on their own (or leased) agricultural farm, or conducted their own economicactivity outside agriculture, assisted (without pay) in conducting family agricultural farm or familyeconomic activity outside agriculture,  2) had work but did not perform it: (e.g. due to illness, maternity leave or vacation, a break incompany activity) if the break in employment did not exceed 3 months; if the break incompany activity) if the break in employment did not exceed 3 months; if the break was longer than 3 months in case when persons were paid employees the additional criterion is receiving during thatperiod at least 50% of the hitherto earnings.  Among employees are also included persons performing outwork and apprentices with whomenterprises or natural persons signed a contract for occupational training or learning skills for aparticular job (if they receive a payment).  Due to the survey methodological assumptions the number of the employed obtained from the LFSdoes not comprise some categories of persons, who are considered as employees living in lodging houses for workers, b) employees working abroad for their Poli	Unit	percent [%] on a quarterly basis. The survey is conducted as continuous observation (movable survey week) what allowspresenting the situation on the labour market during a whole quarter. The survey covers personsaged 15 and more who are members of households in dwellings selected on a random basis.  In the context of economic activity – work is the main criterion in dividing the population, i.e.performing, holding or seeking work. According to the international standards, the tre maincategories are distinguished: employed, unemployed and economically inactive persons. Theemployed, unemployed are the economically active population.  Among the employed are included all persons aged 15 years or more who during the reference week:  1) performed for at least one hour any work generating pay or income, i.e. were employed as paidemployees, worked on their own (or leased) agricultural farm, or conducted their own economicactivity outside agriculture, assisted (without pay) in conducting family agricultural farm or familyeconomic activity outside agriculture, 2) had work but did not perform it: (e.g. due to illness, maternity leave or vacation, a break incompany activity) if the break in employment did not exceed 3 months; if the break was longer than 3months in case when persons were paid employees the additional criterion is receiving during thatperiod at least 50% of the hitherto earnings.  Among employees are also included persons performing outwork and apprentices with whomenterprises or natural persons signed a contract for occupational training or learning skills for aparticular job (if they receive a payment).  Due to the survey methodological assumptions the number of the employed obtained from the LFSdoes not comprise some categories of persons, who are considered as employed in theestablishment survey, i.a.:  a) employees living in lodging houses for workers, b) employees working abroad for their Polish employers.	Available dimentions	total
Data availability Annual data; since 2010	Methodological explanations	survey week) what allowspresenting the situation on the labour market during a whole quarter. The survey covers personsaged 15 and more who are members of households in dwellings selected on a random basis.  In the context of economic activity — work is the main criterion in dividing the population, i.e.performing, holding or seeking work. According to the international standards, the tree maincategories are distinguished: employed, unemployed and economically inactive persons. Theemployed, unemployed are the economically active population.  Among the employed are included all persons aged 15 years or more who during the reference week:  1) performed for at least one hour any work generating pay or income, i.e. were employed as paidemployees, worked on their own (or leased) agricultural farm, or conducted their own economicactivity outside agriculture, assisted (without pay) in conducting family agricultural farm or familyeconomic activity outside agriculture,  2) had work but did not perform it: (e.g. due to illness, maternity leave or vacation, a break incompany activity) if the break in employment did not exceed 3 months; if the break was longer than 3months in case when persons were paid employees the additional criterion is receiving during thatperiod at least 50% of the hitherto earnings.  Among employees are also included persons performing outwork and apprentices with whomenterprises or natural persons signed a contract for occupational training or learning skills for aparticular job (if they receive a payment).  Due to the survey methodological assumptions the number of the employed obtained from the LFSdoes not comprise some categories of persons, who are considered as employed in theestablishment survey, i.a.:  a) employees living in lodging houses for workers,
Data availability Annual data; since 2010	Data source	Statistics Poland
·	Data availability
	Notes

Last update: 26-05-2020, 08:40